14th Sunday in Ordinary Time

One would think after last week's Gospel of seeing Jesus' power displayed in many different miracles, that Jesus would be received with great adulation when He entered His hometown synagogue. Instead the people continue to behave as the Prophet Ezekiel describes in the First Reading, with obstinance and disbelief. They chose to be obtuse, blocking out all the facts and evidence they witnessed, in favor of their own chosen blindness, for it was their own. May we always be open to hear, receive and accept God's word and grace into our hearts, for it will change our hearts and our minds so that we may know and live the Truth, reflecting it in our lives.

14th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Uno pensaría que después del Evangelio de la semana pasada, y de ver el poder de Jesús mostrado en tantos diferentes milagros, que Jesús sería recibido con gran adulación cuando entrará a la sinagoga de su pueblo de crianza. El pueblo continuó comportándose como lo describió el Profeta Ezequiel en la primera lectura, con obstinación e incredulidad. Ellos escogieron quedarse de ignorantes, bloqueando los hechos y la evidencia que presenciaron, y permanecieron ciegos por conveniencia. Que siempre estemos dispuestos a escuchar, recibir y aceptar la palabra de Dios y la gracia en nuestros corazones, ya que cambiará nuestros corazones y nuestras mentes para que conozcamos y vivamos la verdad, reflexionando en nuestras vidas.

De Parte del Párroco

Quisiera darles una Enormes Gracias todos aquellos que trajeron herramientas a la Parroquia. Con sorpresa y gratitud a su pronta y generosa respuesta a mi lista de deseos. Dios le bendiga a usted y a su familia
